

QUT Library 2019 Strategic Priorities

QUT Real World Learning 2020 Vision

QUT graduates will thrive in volatile environments over the long term, contribute productively as individuals and in teams and combine depth in professional knowledge with broad perspectives based on exposure to new ideas and different cultures.

QUT's real world learning experience will reflect the physical and digital nature of the world in which we live and work. QUT research aims to provide solutions to real world problems.

QUT Library will contribute to and align with the QUT Blueprint, the QUT Real world Learning 2020 Vision and the QUT Research and Innovation Strategy as detailed below:

Real World Graduates, Learning and Teaching

We will deliver personalised and flexible services to enhance the student experience by reducing customer effort to achieve desired outcomes

We will partner with clients to contribute to continual service improvement

We will enhance information resource provision, discovery and return on investment based on customer experience and feedback and sustainable budget management

We will ensure Library services are innovative, streamlined and well promoted

We will support online education through the procurement and creation of high-quality content that utilises both traditional and contemporary publishing models

We will provide flexible space that enables learning, creating and sharing

We will ensure the delivery of high impact digital and information literacy programs to contribute to quality graduate outcomes

Real World Research

We will support high quality research by continuing to increase the accessibility, reach and impact of QUT's research

We will facilitate a university wide strategic approach to open scholarship

We will partner as key stakeholders to support QUT's strategic research priorities

We will lead and deliver services to support best practice in scholarly communication through traditional and alternative publishing models.

We will replace the technology that underpins QUT Media Warehouse in order to broaden use of videos in teaching, learning and research.

Real World People, Culture and Sustainability

We will empower Library staff with timely and relevant access to information, development opportunities and seamless access to senior Library staff

We will build, renew and strengthen partnerships across the Faculties, Divisions and Institutes

We will lead creative thinking, continuous improvement and support 'cross-boundary' collaboration within and beyond QUT

We will contribute to the QUT Reconciliation Plan by our continued commitment to equity and diversity and the provision of services that are accessible by all staff and students
